FOR THE RESTORATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

Every true Virginian must feel deeply the loss which the State and nation has sustained in the destruction of the University, from whose doors so many brilliant men from all parts of the country have gone forth; and it should be a labor of love for all who feel an interest in its future to do what they can towards restoring it to its position of usefulness. To this end the ladies of Norfolk have under-taken an entertainment, which it is hoped will add something to the fund already raised here. This will be in the form of a concert, to be given December the 23d, participated in by the best musical talent of the city, who have kindly volunteered their servicer and in addition, Mr. Polk Miller, of Richmond, has kindly offered to assist. who attend will be amply repaid, and we bespeak for this occasion such an attendance as the performance, as well as the object for which it is given, the Philadelphia Ledger, for the At-lantic States, North as well as South, If the main tide of interstate immigra-tion, which has been flowing westward so long, would set Southward.

Continuing, cur contemporary says that during the past year or two several organized movements have been made by people in the Northwestern States to form colonies in the South. As yet the enterprises art not old enough o demonstrate their success or wan of success, but there must be encour agement for the scheme, as still an-other colony is reported to be on its way from various places in Michigan lowa, and Nebraska to a tract of land in Eastern Virginia, not far from another tract which was colonized by a number of Scandinavian families last week. These movemnts indicate, says the Ledger, that Northern sentiment with regard to living in the South has changed, and that the fertile llands and bulmy climate, which have been so long neglected in favor of the less attractive, but apparently more desirable homesteads of the West and North west, are now to be settled upon and

The Virginian is glad to see these expressions from such a paper as the Philadelphia Ledger and hopes to see more of them. Expressions such as the above have their weight and whenever made are bound to attract attention.

NOTES AND OPINIONS.

The Washington Post notes that Ser The Washington Post notes that Senator Sherman's memoirs are singularly silent with regard to what he knows about one eminent Republican statesman—Eliza Pinkston—remarks the Charleston News and Courier.

The Washington Star remarks that this is the time for men who make a business of doing that kind of thing to studiously guess what Congress will do with a view to claiming the entire credit for it when it is accomplished.

The Czarina has recently issued an edict forbidding the ladies of her court to smoke in her presence or even to come near her with the odor of to-bacco about them. The advanced woman must be very much advenced in Russia, says the Philadelphia Ledger.
